Counting Fish

We need to estimate the fish population in a lake.

We catch 40 fish and tag them so that they can be identified if caught again.

The fish are then released and one week later we again catch 40 fish and look to see how many are tagged.

How could this help us come up with a figure for the fish population in the lake?