

There are eight glasses in a row.
Put them in the correct order.

There are three full glasses next to each other.

The second glass is half empty.

The tall glasses are all next to each other.

The seventh glass is half full.

There are no glasses of orange juice next to each other.

The last glass is not tall, and it is full of blackcurrant juice.

The short glasses are not all next to each other.

The sixth glass is tall and empty.

The first glass is empty.